To Staff and Our Twin Rivers Families,

Each March, I look forward to the arrival of our District's Festival of the Arts invitation. It marks one of the true highlights of our school year—an evening when families, staff, and community members gather to experience the impressive talents of our students.

On Wednesday, March 18, more than 750 Twin Rivers students will step into the spotlight to share their artwork, music, and performances with an audience ready to celebrate their creativity and dedication. This festival is the result of months of careful planning and hard work by our Visual and Performing Arts Department (VAPA), whose commitment ensures every detail—from performances to exhibits—comes together seamlessly for students and the community.

I look forward to this event every year because it reflects what makes our district so special: programs that nurture creativity, curiosity, and self-expression. From music and visual arts to theater and dance, our students explore, experiment, and find their voice with the guidance and support of our dedicated staff. The Festival of the Arts is the culmination of that work—hours of practice and imagination on full display. Seeing the range of talent across all grade levels reminds us that creativity thrives at every stage of learning.

I encourage every family to join us and experience the Festival of the Arts firsthand. Whether it's your first time attending or a beloved annual tradition, there's something for everyone to enjoy.
