This Friday, October 23rd, Mrs. Johnson will read the last chapter of Toys Go Out!

Culminating Activity:

To celebrate, students can bring a toy or stuffy with them to school for the day. Their stuffed animal or toy will spend the day with them on the playground, in class, and whatever specials (library, music) they have that day. Here are some guidelines. Please let me know if you have any questions

- Where They'll Go: Toys and stuffies will join students in the classroom, at recess on the playground, and during specials like library and music.
- Size & Type: Please send item(s) small enough to fit inside your child's backpack. Electronics, toys with small loose parts, or items that make noise should stay at home.
- Label Everything: Please clearly label your child's toy or stuffy with their first and last name so it stays safe throughout the day.
- Responsibility: While teachers and staff will help keep track of our special visitors, students are responsible for taking care of their own items. Please leave priceless, irreplaceable, or delicate heirlooms at home.

We can't wait to see what all of the cubs will choose. Happy Reading!

It's Pumpkin Week, part 1, with our amazing Ms K! Check out the flyer here: Pumpkin Week!

Umbrellas & Rainy Day Gear

Parents, with rainy days ahead of us, we see a large number of umbrellas here at school. Please be mindful when sending umbrellas to school with your child. When it is not raining, they quickly become swords for our little ones, creating a potential safety issue. If possible, a hooded raincoat is more appropriate for the age group here at Greenhills. Rain boots are very appropriate and keep little feet warm and dry. Also with our current dismissal procedures, we have limited room when the students are waiting outside and in line to be picked up. For the safety of all our little ones (and staff too! :), please leave the umbrellas at home. Thank you parents!
