

Daily Bulletin
Thursday, November 13, 2025

Lunch Clubs

Dungeons/Dragons Club, Room 6

Spirit Days: Tomorrow, November 14, Ruby Bridges Day! Wear purple.

PGMS XC! Congratulations on an awesome season. Boys took the Championship and girls came in 2nd by one point!

Our banquet is tonight at 6:00 p.m. in the PGMS Gym. To obtain entry, bring your clean uniform labeled in a bag along with your running watch to the gym. (You need that to attend!) If you volunteered with us at the half marathon, bring your community service form as well for signatures.

Attention 6th grade students: Outdoor Science School paperwork and payments are due tomorrow, November 14, at 3:00 p.m. If you are not attending Science School, please let the office know. Students who are not going will have schoolwork and an alternate schedule to follow.

Attention Students: Please bring in any small pumpkins that you have from Halloween to Mr. Enterline room 33. Our PGMS TED class students are building trebuchets and are going to launch small pumpkins across the field. We would love to have your small pumpkin.

Do you like cornhole? Do you want to learn how to play and compete for a prize? The Youth Center is hosting a Cornhole tournament today, November 13, from 2:00-5:30p. Have a parent sign you up online at www.cityofpg.org/recreation under Middle School and High School events. Teams of one or two may compete. This is free event! Prizes will be available for the top teams.

Attention Students: Ms. Griffin is having a Yearbook Cover Contest!! All PGMS students can enter & can submit multiple entries. Include a front cover only (one standard copy paper size). Should be Retro themed with the tagline: "In Retrospect", year 2025-2026. It can be created on paper or digitally in Canva. Submit to sgriffin@pgusd.org or drop off at Room 7. Entry Deadline, Dec 5! Winner gets a free yearbook!