BOBCAT OF THE MONTH-FEBRUARY

CHARACTER TRAIT – CREATIVITY

Room 5 - May Clark! May is room 5's Bobcat of the Month because she embodies every definition of creativity. She loves art in any medium, and always chooses coloring or crafting as her free play or early finisher option. She takes great care and time in her art, writing, and school work. She comes to school with the brightest smile and the most fun outfits that represent her artistic flair. Beyond art, May understands being creative also means being a great problem solver with her peers and getting her work done, even if she is stuck on something. She has great and positive ideas to match her great and positive attitude!

Room 1 - Ezequiel Cruz Vargas! He is a great storyteller and has a wonderful imagination. He thinks outside the box. Ezequiel likes to look at things in a creative way and often thinks about things in new ways. We enjoy seeing his drawings and how he describes them.

Room 2— Cooper Lubben! Cooper is a talented artist who puts great thought and imagination into everything he creates whether it is on paper, with legos, or with something else. Cooper also shines when solving problems, especially in math. He approaches challenges with creative strategies and is always willing to try a new way to find a solution. His innovative thinking and positive attitude make him a wonderful role model in our classroom. Keep up the amazing work, Cooper!

Room 3 -Blaise Lamson! Blaise uses his amazing imagination to create wonderful works of art. He is incredibly artistic and always puts thoughtful detail into everything he creates. In math, Blaise uses his creativity to solve problems, often trying new strategies and thinking outside the box. He isn't afraid to explore different ways to find an answer! Blaise strives to do his best every single day, and his hard work truly shows. We are so proud of you, Blaise

Room 4-Natallie Bentley! Natallie is a truly exceptional creative thinker whose imagination brings color and life into our classroom every single day. Whether she is sketching detailed drawings in the margins of her notebook or crafting imaginative stories filled with vivid characters and exciting plots, Natallie consistently demonstrates a remarkable ability to turn her ideas into something. This is why Natallie is Room 4's Bobcat of the Month.

PE Standout - Abigail Magana! During physical education class, Abigail stands out as one of the most creative students at Kirkwood School. Instead of just following the basic rules of each game, she often finds new and exciting ways to participate. Earlier in the year, we were learning new basketball skills and Abigail created a fun dribbling challenge course using cones and encouraged her classmate to try it. Even during warm-up exercises, she adds imaginative stretching movements that keeps the class focused. Abigail's creativity not only makes PE more enjoyable, but also inspires her classmates to think outside the box and try new ideas. Awesome job Abigail! Thanks for your originality.

ASP Standout - Logan Towne! Logan loves arts and crafts. He is always excited to create something with his hands. When we have a craft to make he is one of the first ones to join the activity. Whatever he makes, he makes it his own style. He puts a lot of effort and pride into his crafts
