

2025-26 Student Perspective Survey - Secondary

Introduction

The purpose of the Student Perspective Survey is to understand how safe, connected, and supported students feel in their classrooms and at their schools. This survey will also ask about your behavior, experiences, and attitudes related to school and learning, along with what is most important to you at school.

Many questions will ask you how often you think something happens. Here is an example of this type of question:

I wear my school colors.

You would pick one answer that best describes how often you wear your school colors.

No, never

Yes, some of the time

Yes, most of the time

Yes, almost all of the time

For example, if you never wear your school colors, you would pick “No, never.” If you wear your school colors practically every day, you would pick “Yes, almost all of the time.”

Your answers on this survey are confidential with one exception. If something you write or select shows that you or someone else might be unsafe or need help, school staff may see your comments/responses so they can check in with you. In all other cases, your answers will not be shared with teachers, principals, or other people.

Please provide honest feedback to the questions below. There are no right or wrong answers. Your responses will be used to help improve schools and services provided to students.

Please read every question carefully.

Papers, websites, and slides we use in class are easy for me to see.

This classroom is arranged so I can clearly see what's being shown or written during lessons.

My teacher uses objects, movement, or hands-on activities to help me learn.

My teacher breaks big tasks into smaller steps that help me complete the assignment.

I can show what I've learned in different ways, such as writing, drawing, building, or performing.

I have choices in how I work (e.g., alone, with a partner, in a group) depending on what helps me learn best.

My teacher gives me tools to make learning easier, such as sentence frames, word walls, anchor charts, graphic organizers, etc.

My teacher notices when students are stressed or upset and helps us refocus or take a brain break.

As you respond to these questions, think about your experiences in {{ custom.course_name }}.

No, never Yes, some of the time Yes, most of the time Yes, almost all of the time

What we learn in class shows people like me and my family.

The teacher encourages us to share examples from our own backgrounds during lessons.

I feel comfortable being myself in this classroom.

The teacher responds if someone says something hurtful about another student's identity.

My teacher talks about speaking more than one language as a good thing.

In this class, making mistakes in language is seen as part of learning, not something to be embarrassed about.

The teacher checks to make sure we understand the language used in lessons, not just whether we got the right answer.
