Education Pathway

About This Pathway

Interested in working in the field of education? This year-long course is open to seniors only and will prepare students for careers in the field of education through both the integration and development of core academic content and field experience. Students will also learn the professional norms, skills, and competencies related to careers in education.

Students will develop a deeper understanding of human development and effective educational practices by incorporating a work-based learning component. Students will develop critical thinking skills during an internship at a local school. Their experiences will prepare students to pursue post-secondary education in related fields of study.

For additional information please reach out to Mrs. Burke.
