1. Narrative description of the Prop 28 arts education program(s) funded. (2500 character limit).

Johnstonville Elementary School District is committed to enhancing arts education and fostering creative expression among our students. The district utilized Prop 28 funding to help continue an enriching choir program for all TK-8th grade students. This initiative underscores our dedication to providing diverse artistic opportunities and nurturing the holistic development of our students. Central to this program was the addition of a part-time choir teacher, a highly qualified professional with extensive experience in vocal instruction and choral direction. This team member continues to bring a wealth of knowledge and passion for music, which was instrumental in establishing Johnstonville's choir program. By providing expert guidance and personalized attention, the choir teacher has helped students develop their vocal skills, musicality, and confidence in performance. To support this program, Johnstonville School also purchased essential equipment that helped facilitate the choir's activities. This included musical equipment, choral books and music, chairs, and audio equipment necessary for both practice and performance. These resources continue to be critical in creating an environment where students thrive musically and showcase their talents to the broader community. The choir program aims to offer students a platform to explore their musical interests, develop teamwork and collaboration skills, and engage in the joy of collective singing. Through regular rehearsals and performances, students had the opportunity to participate in two school performances. This exposure is invaluable in building their confidence, stage presence, and appreciation for the arts. Our district believes that arts education is a vital component of a well-rounded education. By implementing the choir program partially funded through Prop 28, we took significant steps toward ensuring that Johnstonville students have access to high-quality music education. This program not only enriched student educational experience but also strengthened the cultural fabric of our school community.
